Second Announcement

The 17ᵗʰ Asian Logic Conference (ALC 2023)

The 17ᵗʰ Asian Logic Conference will be held on October 9-13, 2023, in Tianjin, China. Organized by the School of Mathematical Sciences of Nankai University, the meeting will take place at St. Regis Tianjin.

The Asian Logic Conference aims to promote mathematical logic in the Asia-Pacific region and to bring logicians together from both within Asia and elsewhere to exchange information and ideas. There will be plenary lectures, special sessions and contributed talks, all of which will be in-person.

The plenary speakers of ALC 2023 are:
William Johnson (Fudan University, China)
Bakh Khoussainov (University of Electronic Science and Technology, China)
Chris Lambie-Hanson (Czech Academy of Sciences, Czech Republic)
Alex Melnikov (Victoria University of Wellington, New Zealand)
Rizos Sklinos (Chinese Academy of Sciences, China)
Slawomir Solecki (Cornell University, USA)
Liuzhen Wu (Chinese Academy of Sciences, China)
Jinhe Ye (Oxford University, UK)
Yue Yang (National University of Singapore, Singapore)

There are also special sessions on Computability theory, Set theory, Model theory, Philosophical Logic and Contributed Talks, all the invited speakers can be found on the webpage https://logic.nankai.edu.cn/alc2023/32168/list.htm.

Scam Alert: We are aware that some invited speakers and other participants may have been contacted by individuals claiming to be affiliated with ALC2023 and offering assistance with accommodation bookings or other things. Please be aware that this is a scam operated by a company calling themselves Business Travel Management or whatever. You will never receive any unsolicited contact from the organizers of ALC2023 promoting accommodation. The only official contact email is logic@nankai.edu.cn.

We have updated the route map to the hotel on the Tianjin and traveling page of the ALC 2013 website. All conference information (e.g. the registration link), together with other practical information, is available at the ALC 2023 webpage at https://logic.nankai.edu.cn/alc2023.
