

First Announcement
The 17th Asian Logic Conference (ALC 2023)

The 17th Asian Logic Conference will be held on October 9-13, 2023, in Tianjin, China. Organized by the School of Mathematical Sciences of Nankai University, the meeting will take place at St. Regis Tianjin.

The Asian Logic Conference aims to promote mathematical logic in the Asia-Pacific region and to bring logicians together from both within Asia and elsewhere to exchange information and ideas. There will be plenary lectures, special sessions and contributed talks, all of which will be in-person.

The plenary speakers of ALC 2023 are:

William Johnson (Fudan University, China)

Bakh Khossainov (University of Electronic Science and Technology, China)

Chris Lambie-Hanson (Czech Academy of Sciences, Czech Republic)

Alex Melnikov (Victoria University of Wellington, New Zealand)

Rizos Sklinos (Chinese Academy of Sciences, China)

Slawomir Solecki (Cornell University, USA)

Liuzhen Wu (Chinese Academy of Sciences, China)

Jinhe Ye (Oxford University, UK)

Yue Yang (National University of Singapore, Singapore)

The deadline of application for student travel awards is July 9, 2023. The deadline for submission of abstracts of contributed talks is July 17, 2023. Registration for the conference will be open through September 15, 2023. If an invitation letter is needed for visa purposes, the deadline for registration is August 15, 2023.

The registration link, together with other practical information, is available at the ALC 2023 webpage at <https://logic.nankai.edu.cn/alc2023>.

Inquiries should be sent to logic@nankai.edu.cn.

We hope to see you in Tianjin in October.

The Program Committee of ALC 2023

Mohua Banerjee, Longyun Ding, Su Gao, Sergey S. Goncharov, Hirotaka Kikyo, Byunghan Kim, Andre Nies, Keng Meng Ng, Dilip Raghavan, Katsuhiko Sano, Keita Yokoyama, and Liang Yu